1. Can I get the exact number of old water heaters being removed and the exact number of new water heaters being installed?

There are a total of eight 100 gallon water heaters being replaced. The number of new tankless heaters installed will depend on the capacity of the brand and model of the heater you will be installing. The new heaters just need to have the same or greater capacity than the old 100 gallon. All of the water heater companies I contacted recommended 2-3 new tankless with an electronic controller for each 100 gallon being removed. There are also eight additional 100 gallon water heaters that will need to be removed and the incoming water supply line and gas line capped. These heaters were part of a wall heater system that is no longer in use.
